IN REVIEW

Safe,
Efficient
Markets

NEW & NOTABLE

ISDA Survey Shows Need for Greater Efficiency and Automation in Document Negotiation

ISDA has published a survey on document negotiation, which shows the average time taken to negotiate key derivatives documents hasn't fallen since 2006, with some negotiations taking longer due to resource constraints, regulatory pressures and operational challenges.

ISDA Proceeds with Development of an Industry Notices Hub

ISDA will proceed with the development of an industry-wide notices hub, following strong support from buy- and sell-side institutions globally. The new online platform will allow instantaneous delivery and receipt of critical termination-related notices and help to ensure address details for physical delivery are up to date, reducing the risk of uncertainty and potential losses for senders and recipients of these notices.

THE SWAP

Episode 42: Managing Geopolitical Risk

Geopolitical risk has become a focus for financial institutions, with the potential to cause extreme volatility in financial markets. How are banks thinking about this? Scott O'Malia talks to Citi's Brent McIntosh.
